Approve use of park facilities

The Granite City Board of Park Commissioners granted permission last week to Lakeview Christian Academy, 3810 Highway 111, to use the Lincoln Place Community Center gymnasium for a physical education program on 22 days through a period ending March 16.

Students from the private school will have use of the gym from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. A fee of $20 per session was set by the board.

The commissioners also approved continued use of park district facilities by the Granite City School District for cross country, tennis and baseball and the physical education field.

It was reported the board has formally notified military authorities of the district's interest in obtaining the golf course at the Granite City Army Installation should the property be considered surplus at a future date.

Due to an insufficient number of registrants, there will be no flag football for 8-and-9-year-olds this season, it was announced.

ILLINOIS TOURISM EMPHASIS. State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene (center), Edwardsville Democrat, receives a bronze bust of Abraham Lincoln from Donald Duster (left), director of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development, and Sandy Guettler (right), managing director of the Illinois Office of Tourism. Vadalabene was honored for his efforts on behalf of Illinois' travel industry as a member of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Tourism and as a supporter of a bill which would provide increased funding for the promotion of tourism in Illinois. House Bill 825, a measure which sets aside ten per cent of the state's annual hotel operators tax revenue for use in Illinois tourism promotion, was signed into law by Governor James Thompson during a ceremony at Chicago's Navy Pier.

Worldwide service by Colonel Howard

Lieutenant Colonel James W. Howard, who has assumed command of the U.S. Army St. Louis Area Support Center (SLASC) located at the Granite City Army Installation, has served in a wide range of military duties around the world. Prior to assuming command here, Lt. Col. Howard was chief, Logistics Readiness Branch, Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff, Logistics, Headquarters U.S. Army Europe, in Heidelberg, Germany.

During his tour of duty in USAREUR, his responsibilities included staff supervision of prepositioned war reserves as well as the logistical readiness of all combat, combat support and combat service support units in USAREUR.

While serving two-tours of duty in the Republic of Vietnam, he was the district advisor of the Hoa Dong District in Go Cong Province.

His responsibilities as commander at the SLASC here include administration and logistical service to the U.S. Army and other federal government elements in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Col. Howard received a bachelor of arts degree in economics from Ripon College, Ripon, Wis. It was there he was commissioned as a second lieutenant from the college's Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

He was born in Granton, Wis., and currently resides with his wife, Renate, and their two children, Michael, 15, and Richard, 11, at the Granite City Army Installation.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern G. Howard of Neillsville, Wis.

Find glitter, filth in Southeast Asia

Members of Travelers Abroad who spent vacations overseas during the summer months gave informal summaries of their trips at a meeting of the travel club held last week at Prather Junior High School.

President Alfred C. Stoeber was in charge of the business session and Edmund Firmer introduced the speakers of the evening, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Talley.

Talley, long associated with the FBI before joining Mercantile Trust Company in St. Louis, described the couple's travels through Southeast Asia. Their route took them from New York to Anchorage, Alaska, then a brief refueling stop in Japan and thence to Hong Kong, Malaysia, Singapore, Macao, Bangkok and to Hong Kong again.

Talley explained that Hong Kong came into British hands in 1841 as a result of the Opium War. A second war with China, 1858-1860, resulted in China's agreement "in perpetuity" of Kowloon peninsula, on the mainland across from Hong Kong harbor.

Then in 1898, Britain negotiated a 99-year lease of a stretch of mainland north of Kowloon, plus 235 small islands in the vicinity, making the total area of the crown colony 404 square miles. As this lease runs out before the end of the present century, Talley said, the governing powers are apprehensive of the future, for today Red China could take over the British crown colony without firing a shot. They could simply cut off Hong Kong's supply of food and drinking water and render the city completely helpless.

Landing at night, Mr. and Mrs. Talley found Hong Kong a brightly lighted fairland. The beautiful harbor has junks, sampans, and ships from all parts of the world and a blaze of neon lights up the waterfront.

At first glimpse, the city seems a dazzling mixture of modern American hotels and skyscrapers, Chinese temples, and magnificent oriental homes occupied by the wealthy, all compacted within a tiny space.

A few moments after landing, however, the tourist receives a rude jolt for which the travel books, travel agents and television have not prepared him: an overpowering odor which Talley described as "a mixture of sewage, incense and cooking odors," caused by the dense population.

Hong Kong is the most densely populated spot on the globe. In some districts there are 400,000 inhabitants per square mile, living in cramped, high-rise apartments in which the government is striving desperately to house the teeming masses which are daily augmented by streams of refugees from Red China, some of which simply swim the two miles across the harbor.

In the commercial districts, many streets are so narrow that vehicular traffic is impossible and walking itself is difficult.

The colorful rickshaw traffic is fast diminishing. Talley explained, because the Hong Kong government is working hard to discourage it. First, it is fast diminishing. Talley explained, because the Hong Kong government is working hard to discourage it. First, it is fast diminishing. Talley explained, because the Hong Kong government is working hard to discourage it.

The contrast between the life of the wealthy and the life of the poor is amazing and revolting. Talley said. Although land is very expensive, some residences have ample gardens and parks beautifully landscaped.

The masses of poor live in two types of homes: miserable shacks on barren, rocky hillsides or in small boat villages crowded together in the field waters without any privacy or sanitation.

From Hong Kong, the Talleys journeyed by ferry to Macao, a small Portuguese possession after 400 years, but fast losing its Oriental flavor through the erection of large apartment houses. In the northern section of the colony, because of the sensitivity of Chinese border guards, tourists are forbidden to take pictures.

In beautiful Bangkok, capital of Thailand, the Talleys found that the king's former palace is open to visitors. The present royal residence is not.

The temples with their glittering glazed-tile and multicolored roofs, the huge statues of demons, the bright clothing of the natives, the many statues of Buddha and the high-powered water taxis make Bangkok confusing but never without charm. Bangkok does not have the obvious contrasts of Hong Kong.

Malaysia, which gained independence after 1945, leads the world in the production of tin and rubber. The chief executive is called king, but is elected.

Talley showed a series of photos which illustrated the entire rubber industry, from tree-tapping to the loading of raw rubber for export.

The speaker said the only spot in Malaysia where he would care to live is Kuala Lumpur, the country's administrative capital.

FIRST BANK BUSINESS SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

For deposits up to $150,000

Are your temporarily idle dollars working for you—or are they just lying there gathering dust instead of interest?

Many Quad-City businesses maintain both checking and savings accounts at First Bank.

They transfer money in excess of immediate business needs from checking to savings. Business savings dollars earn the highest guaranteed interest rate allowed by Federal law—from date of deposit to date of withdrawal.

Then, when necessary, they transfer funds from savings back to checking without loss of earnings so long as a minimum savings balance of $10 is maintained.

If you wish, transfers of $1,000 or more may be made by telephone.

Of course, your business deposits are insured completely separate and apart from your personal accounts by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

First Bank Business Savings—the smart way for smaller businesses to put idle dollars to work until needed.

Federal and state prisons have 20,665 more inmates than they were designed to house.

A hearing Friday in East St. Louis by the Illinois Senate's Ozone Hazard Study Commission pinpointed the wide area and speed of air pollution movement and auto hydrocarbon emissions as adding to ozone control problems. The level has improved in Illinois but Wood River had three ozone alerts in the past year.

Governor James R. Thompson told demonstrators in the Chicago area Friday he will appoint a women's advocate to his staff within a week.

"Demoralized and in turmoil," the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services needs to be reorganized, Gov. Thompson said Friday. He added that he hopes to switch focus to the private sector but that adequate time should be allowed for restructuring the department.

Alex Seith, a Chicago attorney seeking the Democratic U.S. Senate nomination, said Friday that Sen. Charles Perry acted unfairly and ineptly during legislative investigations of Bert Lance, former federal management budget director.

The Poplar Street Bridge and its ramps were opened to traffic Saturday after extensive repairs and resurfacing.

Hormone pills used in pregnancy tests cause severe birth defects in some infants, British medical sources said Saturday.

The Illinois Lung Association's Journal of Breathing contains that filter cigarettes may be more detrimental to a smoker's health than non-filters due to added concentration of carbon monoxide, affecting the cardiovascular system.

Sale of U.S. Treasury bonds halted after midnight Friday due to the end of the federal fiscal year, the Senate national gas price filibuster, and the lack of continuing authority to borrow funds.

A 7.05 per cent pay hike went into effect Saturday for 3,400,000 federal workers.

Airline pilots and ground crews' longtime complaints against Lambert Field after traffic controllers escalated after many planes became "stuck up" in the Friday night, jamming the terminal and delaying all outgoing and incoming flights. A combination of weather and controllers' attitude was blamed, along with the fact that there is only one runway of the length many pilots prefer.

Illinois' first comprehensive divorce reform in 103 years eliminates jury trials and the need to outline detailed allegations. Effective as of Oct. 1, it simplifies child custody and property settlement procedures. A marriage license is now valid from the third to the 60th day instead of the first through the 180th day; the goal is to discourage weddings while couples are "drunk or emotional."

Decals for convenient SUE parking lots will go to 125 persons on an original waiting list and 100 others determined by lottery. President Kenneth Shaw conferred with about 75 students on his front lawn for nearly an hour last week in discussing the decal issuance procedures.

The Illinois Property Tax Review Board has set the Sunset Hills Country Club assessment at $146,000 after Madison County assessing officials sought to increase it from $144,780 to $225,700. The state board cited valuations of other golf courses in this region.

Sick leave

upon the department heads to make monthly reports on such expenditures, but the plan did not endure for long.

A study of sick leave payments for the full year of 1976 and through the first eight months of this year show that sick leave and payments for time lost because of injuries on duty so far this year have outstripped such payments made for the full 12 months of the 1976 year.

Payments for time lost due to injuries on duty are only a small part of the expenditures. Such items usually amount to a few hundreds of dollars per month, while sick leave costs extend into the thousands of dollars monthly.

Figures show that during the eight months of this year, January through August, sick leave and injury on duty payments totaled $20,286. Of this amount, $4,555 was for payments of time lost because of injuries on duty.

The balance of $65,744 represented claims for sick leave.

During the 12 months of 1976, sick leave payments amounted to $51,305, while payment for injuries on duty totaled $11,392. On this basis, payments during the eight months of this year for sick leave, a total of $65,744, is an increase of 28.1 per cent over the total of $51,305 in sick leave payments during all 12 months of 1976.

At the same time, however, payments for time lost due to injuries on duty amounted to $4,555 during the first eight months of this year, compared to $11,392 during all of 1976.

Bulk of the sick leave and injury on duty payments are claimed in the city's four largest departments—fire, police, street and sewage treatment. Only a minor part of such payments are paid to workers of other city working units.

For example, those four departments have accounted for $62,402 of the total of $70,259 payments made through August this year. The balance was divided among departments in all other city departments.

Granite City has a monthly payroll of approximately $257,000, depending upon payments for sick leave, overtime, call-out time and similar items. This is a payroll of slightly more than $3 million per year.

Most aldermen are quick to point out that sick leave is the only cost involved when an employee takes off a day or two, resulting in a shortage of manpower in his department. Usually, the aldermen note, it is necessary to work another man overtime to fill in for the man who has reported ill, resulting in additional expense.

During the first eight months of this year, the sewage treatment plant paid out more sick leave than the city's three other major departments, according to figures in the city clerk's office.

Such payments to employees of the sewage treatment plant totaled $19,831 through August, with only $1,616 of this amount being paid for time off due to injuries on duty.

Second largest sick leave payments during the eight months of this year went to the Police Department where sick leave and injury on duty payments amounted to $16,369. Fire department employees received a total of $15,889 and Street Department workers were paid a total of $8,983.

During all of 1976, payments to sewage treatment plant workers totaled $8,249 in sick leave and $375 for injuries on duty, less than half the amount that has been paid during the first eight months of this year to treatment plant workers.

Payments in 1976 to members of the Police Department amounted to $16,139 in sick leave and $4,045 for time off due to injuries. Firemen received $12,305 sick leave and $639 for injuries on duty and Street Department workers received $6,911 in sick leave and $6,499 for injuries on duty.

Alderman Warren, Decatur, chairman of the council's negotiating committee, said, "There is no question that sick leave payments are getting out of hand." He said an effort was made by the negotiating committee to include in new working agreements this year a provision that no one will be paid for the first three days of an illness, but no such provision was raised that the proposal was not pursued. He said he believed some type of control to prevent abuse of sick leave privileges should be developed.

"Many of the sick leave claims show employees primarily take off on Friday or Monday, or both," Decatur said.

Decatur said his negotiating committee still is meeting with representatives of the Street Department in an effort to reach a new two-year working agreement.

"Street Department workers have tried to obtain longevity pay and even have requested Kelly Days which only the Fire Department now has. We have turned these requests down," Decatur noted.

Alderman Clyde Boyd, chairman of the council's street and alley committee and a longtime proponent of action to keep down the cost of sick leave, noted that the cost of sick leave this year, on the basis of costs for the first eight months, "looks as if it could go over the $100,000 mark." This would amount to 3.3 per cent of the city's total annual payroll of $3 million.

Boyd has consistently called for monthly reports from department heads on the "causes" of sick leave as one means of cutting down the cost.

Gerald Parmley, alderman of Ward Six and chairman of the council's finance committee when the last working agreements were prepared in 1975, also has supported a plan under which an employee would not be paid for the first three days off after reporting ill, unless the employee enters a written statement.

"I've told the finance committee that this thing is way out of line. There are too many days off for illness on Friday and on Monday."

"This gives the claimant a long weekend. It also gives his fellow workers a chance at overtime to take up the slack." Most council members at one time or another have criticized the amount of sick leave payments and questioned the authenticity of many of the claims.

Summon two election judges in hearing

At least two election judges are among those who received summons during the weekend to appear at a hearing Tuesday, Oct. 11, in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville on suits challenging the outcome of the April Nameoki Township election.

The hearing will be held at 9 a.m. Oct. 11, before Circuit Judge Victor Mosele, chief judge of the Third Judicial Circuit.

Sources indicate summons have been sent to two judges from Nameoki Precinct Eight, a poll watcher in the same precinct and a poll watcher in Precinct 11.

Depositions were taken during the weekend from other election officials which are expected to be introduced at the hearing.

Suits filed by several unsuccessful candidates in the township election allege irregularities in the counting and initialing of some ballots and conversations and telephone calls in some precincts said to be unlawful.

Numerous contested ballots have been taken under advisement by Judge Mosele and he is expected to rule on the validity of each after the hearing.

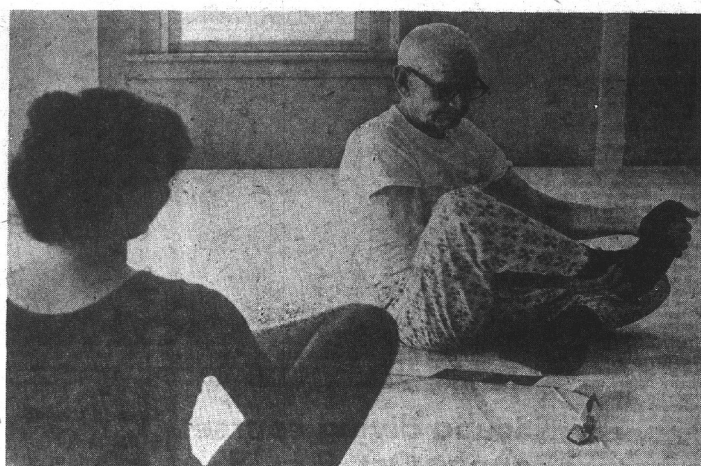

Supporters of former township supervisor, Louis Whiteall, contend the outcome of the supervisor race could go "either way," according to Mosele's ruling on the ballots.

Some sources believe that the new supervisor, Harold Davis, leads by only one vote in the ballots already accepted by the court.

Rulings on the validity of the ballots also, could affect the township's trustee and tax assessor races where winners were declared by very narrow margins after the April election.

A tie for a trustee position resulted in a drawing which selected Andrew Besserman over Mrs. Helen Hawkins for a fourth trustee position. Most sources agree Mrs. Hawkins appears now to have more votes than either Besserman or Trustee Jerry Adams.

Judge Mosele is serving in Bond County this week and was unavailable for comment on the case.

HEALTHY HABIT. James M. Davis, who turned 92 on August 11, tries an exercise to increase flexibility during a Wednesday morning session of the YMCA senior citizens fitness classes now being conducted. At left is the instructor, Mrs. Lee Suarez. Davis said that he has been exercising regularly since he was a young boy and is taking advantage of the classes offered at the "Y." New classes are being scheduled for October including additional fitness and swimming instructions for senior citizens.

Two injured in barge accident

Two men were injured, one critically, at 5:50 p.m. Friday while removing the top cover of an empty barge on the Granite City Steel dock at the Tri-City Regional Port.

Daniel G. Oliver, 40, Collinsville, suffered a head injury, among other injuries, and was in a coma when initially taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital. He was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, where his condition today remains without change, a spokesman said.

Bruce E. Van, 25, of 2520 Parkside, Apt. 7, sustained a laceration above the right eyebrow and a head injury. He also was transferred from St. Elizabeth to Firmin Desloge Hospital and is reported in satisfactory condition today in the mini-ICU ward.

Both GCS employees are classified as chainmen who work on the docks or deck of the barges during loading and unloading procedures, mostly by guiding and fastening the hooks of the large cranes on to loads.

At the time of the accident, the men were helping the crane operator remove the top cover from an empty barge when a double cover beneath the surface shield jerked loose, plunging the workers into an empty hold, more than 20 feet below. Both men were partially standing on the top cover.

A spokesman for the steel company said the set of double covers should not have moved when the outer hatch was removed.

An investigation to determine the cause of the mishap is continuing.

Generic drug law emphasizes need to pick right pharmacist

The generic drug bill newly signed into law in this state puts greater emphasis on patients' relationship with their pharmacists, according to an assistant dean in the College of Pharmacy, University of Illinois at the Medical Center, Chicago.

Dr. Robert G. Mrtek, Ph.D., assistant dean for extension and public information, and professor of pharmacy practice, said the law that will allow substitution of brand name drugs with less expensive generic products means that consumers will have to use care in selecting a pharmacist who can provide all the information and services that will be needed.

"This law means that patients will have to be as selective about which pharmacist they go to as they are about their physician," Dr. Mrtek said. "The pharmacist dispenses his knowledge as well as the drugs."

Dr. Mrtek said a patient should find out the following about how his pharmacist practices:

Does he keep records and patient profiles? Does he spend some time with each patient explaining the drugs that he is dispensing? Does he attend continuing education courses for pharmacists?

"Judge on the basis of the pharmacist's professional reputation as a health practitioner rather than the size of the store, the store's appearance or the price of the drugs," Dr. Mrtek said.

The price of prescription drugs is a major reason why the generic-drug legislation was created.

But Dr. Mrtek pointed out that price must not come before the patient's welfare.

He noted that the Illinois Department of Public Health will issue a "formulary" of generic drugs that can be used as substitutes, and that it takes the permission of the physician, the patient and the pharmacist to make a substitution.

"The pharmacist is going to play an even more important role under this law because he will be able to select any less expensive generic drug or a less costly brand name drug, as long as the substitute is in the formulary," Dr. Mrtek added.

"Therefore, the patient must select the pharmacist who is right for him. We would advise to stay with him so that he knows you and your health history."

For those who must use long-term drug therapy, Dr. Mrtek suggests they consult their physicians about the possibility of generic substitutes.

"First, they should ask their physician if prescribing generically would be harmful to their health. If the physician says no, then ask if the generic drug would be less expensive. The effectiveness and safety of the drug should be the primary concern."

Generally, new products on the market will not be affected by the law because they do not have generic substitutes.

Another important factor of the new generic-drug law is that the cost savings from a generic substitution will vary.

Dr. Mrtek said that many substitutes may only save a consumer 20 cents to 50 cents per prescription. However, for extremely costly drugs, a generic substitute could save a patient several dollars on the prescription price.

"One thing some people don't realize is that a pharmacist adds a professional service fee to the cost of the drug product," Dr. Mrtek said.

"The drug substitute may be less expensive, but the service fee is at least going to stay the same — and may eventually increase because of the pharmacist's added responsibility."

The University of Illinois College of Pharmacy is the only school of pharmacy in the state.

THEFT FROM TAVERN
Sam Dymas, 1729 Edwardsville Road, reported that a four-year college student who transferred from the Warriors and Tigers in the fall of 1973, last week and as he entered the back saw a subject in white shirt run out the front door. Approximately $100 was missing from the cash drawer.

After two years, 60 per cent of those students who transferred before completing two full years at a community college.

The average grade of transferring students from community colleges was a 2.8 grade point average. Although this showed a slight drop immediately after transfer, it had returned to 2.8 by graduation.

Questioned about the success of Belleville Area College students who transfer, Dean of Baccalaureate Oriented Programs Gordon Stone quotes figures from reports by Northern Illinois University and Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Community college students doing well, especially those from BAC

Most students who transfer to four-year colleges from the state's community colleges are successful — both in terms of being able to remain in college to achieve a baccalaureate degree, and in terms of earning a relatively high grade point average.

A new Illinois Community College Board study is based on information obtained on 10,504 students who transferred from Victory Tavern, 1299 Edwardsville Road, reported that a four-year college and heard a noise inside his tavern universities in the fall of 1973. Of those students, 88 per cent were still in college after one year.

After two years, 60 per cent of those students who transferred before completing two full years at a community college.

The average grade of transferring students from community colleges was a 2.8 grade point average. Although this showed a slight drop immediately after transfer, it had returned to 2.8 by graduation.

Questioned about the success of Belleville Area College students who transfer, Dean of Baccalaureate Oriented Programs Gordon Stone quotes figures from reports by Northern Illinois University and Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

At NIU, Belleville Area College transfers had a mean grade point average of 3.03 compared to a mean of 2.74 for all community college transfers and a mean of 2.68 for native NIU students (students who took all four years at NIU).

At SIUC, the Belleville transfers earned a mean GPA of 2.87 compared to 2.66 for all community college students and 2.51 for native SIUC students.

Stone pointed out that the psychology of transferring may encourage less capable community college students to discontinue their education after two years.

Staying in the college where they began their education may encourage poorer students to complete the BA degree, thus leading to the difference in native and transfer students' GPAs, he said.

"Notwithstanding this factor," Stone added, "Belleville Area College students do exceptionally well when compared with others. This speaks well for our faculty and our programs."

The ICCB report points out that two out of three students who attend Illinois public community colleges do not expect transfer; however, those who do transfer do so with little difficulty and with little or no loss of credit.

The report credits this to statewide articulation agreements worked out between the community colleges and the four-year institutions. A complete report of the transfer studies is available from the ICCB office in Springfield.

Role of a criminal defense lawyer often misunderstood

Lawyers who represent defendants in criminal cases are special members of our intricate system of justice. As advocates for defendants who are accused of breaking society's laws, defense lawyers and their role in the criminal justice system are often misunderstood, the Illinois State Bar Association says.

Every lawyer is sworn to uphold a Code of Professional Responsibility which requires the lawyer to "represent a client zealously within the bounds of the law."

GI home loans still popular

Applications for GI home loans totaled 39,537 in July, pushing the total number of applications to 367,884 for the first 10 months of the 1976-77 fiscal year, the Veterans Administration reported during the weekend.

The July requests were 23 per cent higher than those received a year ago, reflecting the continuing popularity of the loan guaranty program available to most veterans with service since Sept. 16, 1940.

Home loan appraisal requests received by the VA in July totaled 61,653, an increase of 13 per cent over a year ago. It was the fifth straight month that appraisal requests had exceeded 60,000. During the first 10 months of fiscal 1977, the VA has received 580,564 appraisal requests.

The GI home loan program was established in 1944 for veterans with other than dishonorable discharges. Service consisting only of "active duty for training" does not qualify individuals for home loan guaranty.

The VA home loan guaranty program is intended to help finance the purchase of a reasonably priced home at a favorable rate of interest and with little or no down payment. It encourages private lending institutions to make higher loans than they otherwise would, with the VA guaranteeing part of the loan.

The VA also will guarantee loans to alter, improve, refinance or repair a home if the veteran or service member certifies he occupies the property as his home.

Charge couple in drug case

Tyonia Reynolds, 23, Mulberry Grove, Ill., was charged last week with unlawful acquisition of a controlled substance and Julian Wallace, 40, of 1605 Elizabeth St., Madison, was charged with unlawful possession of 72 counterfeit prescription blanks after police stopped their auto in Granite City.

They pleaded innocent to the charges and were released on $150 cash each.

When police halted their auto they allegedly found the prescription blanks in the auto and Tyonia Reynolds later surrendered a bottle of prescription pills which was hidden in her clothing, officers said.

It is alleged the prescription pills were purchased at Reese Drug Store in Bellflower, Ill., by Shopping Center using a false prescription blank.

Open beer also was allegedly found in the auto and Wallace was charged with illegal transportation of alcohol.

represent a client's interest to the fullest extent possible could be grounds for disciplinary action or for a lawsuit against the lawyer for malpractice.

The following questions can be answered "true or false." They represent, the ISBA says, some of the most misunderstood aspects of criminal defense law:

1. If a defendant confides to his lawyer that he did indeed commit the crime, the lawyer must so advise the court.

2. When a person who is accused of a crime asks a lawyer to represent him, the lawyer may refuse to defend the person.

3. It is the responsibility of the lawyer to determine whether or not the client is guilty of the crime.

4. It is the defense attorney's responsibility to make all major decisions about how the defense will be handled.

The Illinois State Bar Association provides the following answers to these four questions:

1. False. The lawyer may not disclose the client's admission of guilt to the court or to anyone else, although the lawyer may urge the client to change his plea to guilty.

The accused has immunity from self-incrimination under the 5th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, and the lawyer is bound by ethical and professional obligations not to reveal statements made by the accused in confidence.

2. True. It is up to the lawyer in private practice to decide whether to accept a particular case. However, the Constitution also says the accused has a right to legal counsel.

Defendants who are unable to pay for legal representation may have a court-appointed lawyer.

3. False. The defense lawyer's responsibility is to be an advocate for the accused, doing everything within the law to clear the defendant of the charges.

It is the responsibility of the prosecution to prove the defendant to be guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.

4. It is up to the court — the judge or the jury — to determine guilt on the basis of the evidence presented by the prosecution and the defense.

4. False. The attorney's responsibility is to advise the client about the various decisions that must be made, such as whether to plead guilty or not guilty. The lawyer should make sure the client fully understands the consequences of such decisions, but it is the client who must decide and bear the consequences.

The Illinois State Bar adds, "The goal of insuring justice in our society demands that defendants be represented by competent legal counsel who vigorously fulfill their duties to their clients."

Marriage license not in effect for 3 days

Miss Evelyn Bowles, Madison County Clerk, was officially notified Thursday that significant changes have been made in the Marriage Act by a bill recently signed into law by the governor.

The new law is effective Oct. 1 and will probably cause some degree of confusion and frustration at the outset, she said.

Miss Bowles indicated that two of the portions which will have an immediate impact are the three-day waiting period—a license does not become effective until three days after issuance—and the increase in price to $15.

She further advised that a marriage license will be valid for 60 days rather than the current 30 days after the effective date.

Persons solemnizing marriages are mandated to make the return to the county clerk within 10 days after the marriage.

In the case of minors—persons 16 and 17 years of age—consent must be given by both parents or legal guardians.

Miss Bowles suggested that those intending to be married, contact her office if they have any questions concerning the new provisions of the law.

Governance, budget and gym in SIUE spotlight

President Kenneth A. Shaw of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is pleased with progress that has been made at the university since he became its top administrator Jan. 17, and is looking to the future with optimism and confidence as he continues toward his goal of leading the institution to become "the best of its kind."

Dr. Shaw made these observations Thursday afternoon as he delivered his first annual speech to the university community at the beginning of the new academic year.

Speaking in the Communications Building theater, he gave students, faculty and staff an update on developments that affect the University and suggested directions for the future.

Covering his personal goals, as well as those of his vice-presidents and constituency heads, President Shaw said strengthening the university's governance system is perhaps the institution's most important objective.

"In my view, the process of governance is as important as the other goals we have talked about this afternoon, mainly because it provides us with a vehicle for dealing with matters of concern now and in the future on the basis of an honest consensus within the university community."

Other major goals announced by the president for this academic year include:

—An improved budget picture, with focus on salaries, monies for the library and replacement equipment, and capital funds.

—A permanent director of the East St. Louis Center and completion of a thorough evaluation of the operation of the center.

—Completion of plans for the physical education-recreation-athletic facility. And,

—Determining the destiny of the Mississippi River Festival (MRP).

Vice-President and Provost (Earl Larson) Development of models for handling student academic grievance policies, changing the faculty grievance policy, and school working papers; a position paper on the academic calendar, for the consideration of the University Senate; and an evaluation of the University Cultural Arts Services program with particular emphasis on the MRP.

Also, a "solid look" at the promotion and tenure system; simplifying planning procedures for new and expanded programs; an evaluation of remedial services; efforts; implementation of an institute for Urban and Regional Affairs; and appointment of task forces in faculty development, continuing education and general education.

Vice-President for Business Affairs (Ria Fritters) Development of a three-year, campus reallocation plan and a cost-reduction plan in the Business Affairs area; placement of the Business Affairs division on a zero-based budget; development of a total energy conservation plan for the campus; conducting an all-campus space utilization study and efficiency studies in such areas as duplicating services, fleet car usage, and data processing; and determining a more workable organizational structure and civil service performance appraisal program.

Senior Vice-President for Planning and Review (Ralph W. Ruffner) — Coordinating the university's public relations effort with the objective of "having us appear to be as good as we are"; development of the university's first structured fund drive, with funds to be used to develop a Presidential Scholars Program for outstanding students; and determining the future role of the Olin Conference and Cultural Center.

Vice-President for Student Affairs (Charles E. Stiles) — University Senate acceptance of a revised code of conduct; implementation of the rape intervention and sexual abuse program; development of a philosophy of athletics; implementation of a means to better identify and resolve student concerns; and refinement of techniques to evaluate administrative services in the Student Affairs area.

The president also presented the goals of three constituent groups. They include:

Non-Academic Employees Advisory Council — Salary equity with State Code employees; improved personnel administration program; and a reduced work week, beginning fiscal year 1979.

University Senate — Becoming recognized as the legislative body of the university; budget review with attention to an equitable merit compensation policy; and an administrative-faculty salary policy; development of student governance procedures; policy covering evaluation of the vice-presidents and president; restructuring the undergraduate program review procedure; and development of policies and procedures on non-traditional admissions and programs at the graduate level.

Student Government — Involving more students in student government; developing an instructor-course evaluation to be published quarterly; and making student government more accessible to students.

In his update of university activities, the president covered legislative relations, public relations, implementation of the Problem Identification Process (PIP) program, personnel, and the number of miscellaneous items, including student government plans for renovation of the University Center, Board of Higher Education approval of new undergraduate programs in health education and liberal arts, and SIUE Board acceptance of the president's approach toward institutional identity and autonomy of the university.

Prior to the president's address, a six-page report was distributed on implementation of the PIP program.

Dr. Shaw said highlights of the 21-item report include establishment of the Office of Academic Studies; appointment of a search committee to assist in selecting an affirmative action officer; budget reallocation of over $600,000 to meet existing needs and to provide funds for new programs, and recruitment and retention efforts.

Announcing that fall enrollment is 10,877, Pres. Shaw said the university faces problems which must be confronted are transportation and housing.

He said the University Committee on Transportation is working closely with regional groups planning future transportation systems and stressed that the university should be considered a "focal point" in developing systems for the area.

On the subject of housing, the president said more than 700 students were on the university's waiting list for housing last year, and more than 500 of this group lived more than 50 miles from the university.

Dr. Shaw said the university is trying to induce private developers to build apartments near the campus, and he indicated "several seem quite interested."

Pointing to "a very good year" in legislative relations,

Five students at South earn 'commended' status

Five senior students at Granite City High School South have achieved commendable status in the 23rd annual National Merit Scholarship Program, James Dumont, principal, announced Friday.

This honor is the result of each student's outstanding performance on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test-National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

Dr. Shaw said, "We got results."

Through negotiation with the Board of Higher Education (BHE) and legislative coordination, $60,000 was added to the university's budget to partly compensate for monies lost through previous BHE decisions relating to tuition retention, $111,000 was converted to capital planning for the School of Dental Medicine, and $100,000 was appropriated for planning a physical education-recreation-athletic facility.

The president has personally conducted a public relations program during the past nine months, "telling the SIUE story" to more than 50 groups and 20,000 people.

On the subject of personnel, Dr. Shaw said an evaluation report has been completed, with recommendations which include development of new and more comprehensive personnel policy handbooks, required performance appraisals of all employees, an improved employee orientation program, and the creation of a personnel representation council to advise those responsible for personnel administration in all areas.

"There is much to look forward to in the future," Dr. Shaw said. "It will demand our working together."

"However, in striving to work together, let's accept that we won't always be in complete agreement, and that, when we are not, disagreement isn't necessarily a bad thing."

In a final admonition, the president said, "Let's not delude ourselves into thinking that no mistakes will be made. A university that wants to be the best of its kind will make mistakes. We will make mistakes, and we will have conflict."

"Each of us will dream about a better future, and dream we must. Still, we must stay awake and alert, as we must work together to achieve greater congruence between our dream and the reality before us."

(PSAT-NMSQT) which was administered nationwide to high school juniors in October 1976.

Letters of Commendation were presented to Charles Douglas Clark, Walter DeBosh, Paula Gray, Alice Hoffman and Linda Rhodes.

A total of approximately 35,000 commended students throughout the United States are being honored by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC) which administers the yearly scholarship competition.

Students in this group represent less than two per cent of the total of graduating U.S. secondary school seniors.

Although these students scored slightly below the level required for Merit Program scholarships, they were named semifinalists and who will continue in the competition for Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1978, each commended student has demonstrated exceptional academic promise. A spokesman for the National Merit Scholarship Corporation stated that the corporation believes "the high standing of Merit Program Commended students is an indication that they deserve their public recognition, because the nation as well as these students will be benefited by continued educational and personal development of their talents."

Commended students do not continue in the Merit Scholarship competition, but to increase their opportunities for college admission and financial aid NMSC has offered each an opportunity to have identifying information sent by the corporation to two higher education institutions selected by the student.

In addition, NMSC makes it possible for all regionally accredited colleges and universities to receive home addresses for commended students on a cost basis, so that an institution may contact any of these promising young men and women directly.

It is hoped that recognition of the commended students in each year's Merit Program will serve as an encouragement to the rest of the youth and assist them in obtaining whatever information and assistance they may need to pursue their educational plans, Dumont said.

Woman beaten, hospitalized

Mrs. Conchita Shemona, 44, of 2107 Hillside Ave., Cloverleaf Addition, was beaten in the 2000 block of Alton Avenue in Cloverleaf last week. She said she was leaving a store and a 16-year-old girl jumped her and beat her. She swung her purse at the girl, but was knocked down. She said she then saw two men approach and was hit and kicked numerous times, but she could not tell who was striking her. She was knocked unconscious.

Her husband took her to St. Elizabeth Hospital where a broken nose, a possible concussion, a puncture wound to the rear of her head and numerous bruises were diagnosed. She was admitted and will require plastic surgery on her nose, authorities said.

The 16-year-old girl also was admitted to the hospital due to emotional distress from the incident, police reported.

GUARANTEED

You will be given a written guarantee on a pro-rated basis from the beginning to the end. Naturally we could not give you such a guarantee if it didn't work.

CAN'T HELP

Male pattern baldness is the cause of a great majority of the cause of hair loss for which no method is effective. Midwest Erickson Hair Specialists cannot help those who are slick bald after years of gradual hair loss.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss?

Even if baldness need not be run in the family this is certainly no proof of the cause of your hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have hair on top of your head, and would like to stop hair loss and grow more hair, now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

FREE CONSULTATION

Albert Vasquez, 76, found dead; inquiry scheduled

Albert Vasquez, 76, of 1653 Market St., Madison, was found dead on the kitchen floor of his home at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

He had died several days earlier and his body was badly decomposed, according to William Sternberg, Madison County deputy coroner, who was summoned to the scene.

Alexander Carr of Overland, Mo., went to the Madison Police Station about 1:30 p.m. Saturday and told officers he had gone to visit his brother, Mr. Vasquez, and found him open door to the house standing open and a dead dog lying inside the door.

Officers accompanied Carr back to the dwelling and discovered Mr. Vasquez lying on the kitchen floor.

A second dead dog was on the floor nearby and several dead rats were found inside the house about the size of a rat.

Firemen wearing masks were required to enter the dwelling. The Granite City humane officer was called to remove the dogs and was asked to keep the animals' bodies for examination.

Although electricity was still in service at the dwelling, there was no gas or water.

It appeared Mr. Vasquez had burned paper in a wood-burning stove in the kitchen for heat and on which to cook. The heat was detached from the stove and the walls and ceiling were blackened by smoke.

A 12x6x6-foot concrete pool in the yard was partially filled with stagnant water. A bucket with a rope tied to the handle was near the pool, causing those investigating the death to speculate that Mr. Vasquez had used the pool as his source of drinking water.

A sample of the water was taken for analysis.

Carr said he had last checked on his brother 10 days earlier. He had not seen him since but had talked with Mr. Vasquez over the fence.

Asphyxiation is being considered as the cause of death, it was learned. An inquiry will be conducted by Sternberg.

Mr. Vasquez was a longtime resident of Madison. He was recognized by many people, as he rode a bicycle throughout the Granite City area for many years.

Mr. Vasquez remains are at Davis Funeral Home in Granite City, pending arrangements being completed by the family.

City precincts

seven wards with four precincts in Ward One, four in Ward Two, four in Ward Three, six in Ward Four, seven in Ward Five, three in Ward Six and five in Ward Seven, for a total of 33 precincts.

Prior to the city election last April, Granite City had 31 voting precincts with a heavy voting concentration in precinct 23 of Ward Five. The City Council, to comply with state election requirements, split precinct 23 to create two additional precincts, numbers 32 and 33, giving the city a total of 33 precincts. Precincts 32 and 33 remained in Ward Five.

At that time the county had 32 precincts in Granite City. This total was raised to 37 by the recent County Board action.

In this revision, the county used part of its original precinct 16 to become part of city precinct 33; used part of city precinct 23 to create county precinct 34; used part of city precinct 17 to create county precinct 35; used part of city precinct 36 to create county precinct 36, and used part of city precinct 32 to create county precinct 37.

The confusion resulted after the new identification cards were mailed to voters in precincts 34 through 37, because no such precinct numbers were listed in the city's publication of polling places for Tuesday's voting.

Many voters did not realize that the numbers contained in their identification cards were county precinct numbers and different from city polling places.

Stevens explained that a voter who received a new county ID card listing precinct 34 would vote at the polling place to city precinct 23, the same precinct pool at which he voted in the election last year.

Accordingly, voters who received cards bearing the county precinct number 35 will continue to vote in city precinct 17, those receiving cards bearing the precinct number 36 should continue to vote in city precinct 28, and those with cards bearing the county precinct number 37 are to vote in city precinct 32.

Stevens agreed that the changes in the county registration system and rearrangement of precinct numbers came at such a short time before the special city election that voters in the five county precincts involved, many of them uncertain as to their precinct numbers in the city, were confused over the location of their polling places.

Stevens said he had been informed by Miss Bowles that if election judges at polling places in tomorrow's election have an question as to the validity of a voter's registration, a judge should call her office at 1-692-4482.

Forty-five gallons for painting miscellaneous items such as barricades and posts.

Preparation of the data followed disclosure during a City Council meeting two weeks ago that the city has lost thousands of dollars by not keeping complete data and filing applications for fund reimbursements in connection with a street-striping program authorized under the Federal Highway Safety Act of 1973.

Under the federal act, the city passed a street striping in August 1973 in a program that provided the city could not receive funds outright for purchase of the machine, but that paint purchases for use of the machine would be paid partially by the federal program.

The state provided that paint would need to be purchased through state bidding procedures and through state competitive bidding when large amounts of supplies were required.

It was brought out in the council session two weeks ago that data had not been compiled in proper application form to obtain the reimbursements.

At that time Mayor Paul Schuler said that if the city had failed to obtain money to which it was entitled, the problem would have to be corrected.

He said he would sign no more contracts for street striping paint purchases unless the state requirements.

Defend lounge

Noting that one of the major objections to the lounge expressed at last week's township meeting was that the lounge might attract young troublemakers — because of its proximity to Interstate 270 — Wolf said, "That was never our intention. We feel our dress code will keep that from happening."

He also said fences will separate lounge patrons from the resort's beach area and from the mobile home park on the other side of the lake.

"People drink at Fun 'n Sun now and have for years. We have never had to call out the sheriff's department since Yust purchased the resort several years ago."

"They purchase beer or liquor at nearby package stores and then bring it to the beach now, but we have never had any trouble."

"Each evening, crews clean the beach entirely and haul the beer cans to the dump."

"If we can get this lounge going, people can still drink there, but we keep the beer cans and bottles inside and not all over the beach," the lounge planners said.

Wolf said many people object to the idea of putting a beer garden on the outside of the building, thinking it will cause noise, public drunkenness and other problems.

"That's just not right," Wolf said. "The beer garden, if we build one, will be a quiet place where people can sit in the cool evening air and have a drink."

"It will be surrounded by an eight-foot privacy fence and there will not be any outdoor bands or excess noise."

"The place borders I-270 and how can we make more noise than the big trucks on the Interstate?" Wolf added.

The beer garden is to offer only draft beer and mixed drinks in paper cups to reduce possible litter, and the dress code will be fully enforced, he said.

"I think some of those objecting to the lounge and beer garden think we are going to have people running from the beach into the lounge in their swimsuits and then go out and wander all over the beach throwing beer cans."

"The dress code and the fence separating the lounge from the beach will prohibit this."

"We want this to be the type of place the people of Mitchell want to come to and have a drink. It's about time this part of Mitchell had a nice lounge and restaurant," he added.

Wolf has been an entertainer for many years and currently plays with the Four Thieves band at Tony's Restaurant.

"I know how nice lounges, like Tony's are operated. I have worked in good lounges for years and have seen very few fights or problems."

"The last fight I saw was among some lawyers at a Bar meeting," he commented.

Yust noted that Fun 'n Sun is a 40-acre compound which is completely enclosed with a five-foot chain-link fence.

The nearest homes are at the opposite side of the lake from the recreation building, which will house the lounge. Many

VOTE

OCTOBER 4, 1977

IT'S IMPORTANT TO YOU

In order to preserve your right to vote, you must go the polls on Tuesday.

If you fail to vote, you may not have the opportunity to vote for the Office of Superintendent of Streets in the future.

For many years, the office of Superintendent of Streets has been elective.

Now, shortly after a hotly contested election, a "lame duck" City Council, several members already rejected by the voters of Granite City, took away your right to vote for the important office of Superintendent of Streets and make it appointive. Frequently, precious rights of the citizens are destroyed by power-hungry politicians. Rarely do you have an opportunity to correct such abuse. Tuesday, October 4, 1977, is such an opportunity. VOTE YES.

An overwhelmingly number of residents signed petitions to place this matter on the ballot. After the citizens had demonstrated their desires in this matter, several attempts were made to reverse the prior action of the City Council to avoid the expense of an election. The undersigned supported those actions vocally and with votes on the City Council.

VOTE YES ON TUESDAY

Another appointive position is another step towards a concentration of power in a few select individuals. Honest difference of opinion among City office holders is not only healthy, it better protects you as a tax payer of Granite City. Appointive office holders have no real feeling of accountability or obligation to the people.

VOTE ON TUESDAY, YES

The necessity and expense of today's election could have been avoided. The clear attempt to limit your rights as a tax paying member of this community can be avoided only by your vote.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

South takes to the air to win 'battle of Injuns'

Warriors smack Comanches 7-0 for second victory

By ELDON WARFIELD
For the Press-Record

A balanced attack by the South Warriors overpowered the Cahokia Comanches 7-0 Friday night in the "Battle of the Indians" at Cahokia.

Granite City South picked up its second road victory in as many games to even the 1977 record at 2-2.

Carrying the pickskin for the Warriors most of the time was Doyle Beard.

In 26 attempts, Beard gained 51 yards and the game's only score.

Quarterback Mike Forshee rushed for 18 yards in 12 attempts while fullback Tony Elliott carried the ball six times for a total of 31 yards. Dave Mahaffey rambled 10 yards on three carries to balance the attack.

Strategically different from the last three games, the Warriors went to the air and did it successfully. Forshee completed five passes out of eight attempts for 57 yards.

"As long as we get pass protection, we can pass. We got protection and we passed," said South head coach Stan Wojcik.

Sophomore Blake Ambuehl snatched two Forshee tosses for 33 yards. Todd McFarland covered 12 yards on two grabs and Mike DeGonia pulled in one reception for 12 yards.

THE ENTIRE FIRST QUARTER consisted of both teams exchanging punts while Granite City South controlled the ball almost the entire quarter.

Turnovers were abundant during the opening minutes of the second quarter. South fumbled the ball over to Cahokia, giving the hosts good field position.

Two plays later, Cahokia quarterback Dave Hagenbrock found Warrior defensive back

Jeff Parker for an interception. South then mounted an attack against the Comanches. Later in the drive, South was faced with a crucial third-down-and-eight-yards-to-go.

From the 27-yard line Forshee found Ambuehl for 18 yards and a first down.

But then Cahokia recovered a quick pitch from Forshee to Beard.

The Comanches attempted to get a drive going but on a fourth down and five yards on the 33-yard line the South defense hauled Cahokia's bid.

The Warriors gained momentum when Forshee ran an option for 15 yards and a first down. On the next play, Forshee found DeGonia for a 12-yard gain.

After mixing up the plays with a few rushes, Forshee then returned to the air and completed a five-yard pass to tight end McFarland.

Forshee found wide receiver Ambuehl for a 15 yard pass reception. Then on a quarterback draw, Forshee carried the ball to the three-yard line and a first and goal.

The 10-play, 55-yard drive was climaxed when South's Beard lunged over the goal line to supply the Warriors with the only touchdown of the game.

Third quarter action started with a fired-up Cahokia squad. Stanley Washington broke a play for nine yards and then Hagenbrock went to the air. Tight end Dan Shreenberg pulled in an 18-yard pass and later grabbed a 15-yard pass to put Cahokia on the Warrior nine-yard line.

A six-yard gain advanced the Comanches to the three. South's defense then came to life and stopped the next play at the line of scrimmage.

A strong pass rush by the Warrior defensive line forced Hagenbrock to put the ball into the air hastily. Warrior Dave Klurich vandered the Comanche pass and killed the drive.

The ground game was put to work and the Warriors were going to play "control the clock."

A 12-yard gain by Elliott and an 11-yard gain by Forshee put pressure on the Cahokia defense.

Beginning the fourth quarter, Keith Czaplak intercepted a Forshee pass and returned it into Warrior territory.

Cahokia punted to South and put the Warriors in a hole by Kirksey. Kirksey turned in another outstanding punting job, averaging 3.6 yards per kick.

Cahokia was still in South territory but its possession was short. Bob Stegemeier hauled in the third aerial pickoff of the night for South.

A series of quarterback keepers ran down the clock and the Cahokia timeouts, except for one.

and the ball on the five-yard line, confusion hit the Warrior team; Cahokia received a chance because time did not run out for South.

But Cahokia failed to complete a pass and South prevailed, 7-0.

"We're really proud of our defense. We held when we had to," said a happy Coach Wojcik.

This week's schedule has the Warriors pitted against the Edwardsville Tigers in the 1977 homecoming game at South Friday night at 8.

Trojans' comeback gains third victory, 14-7

By PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor

"It took us three and a half quarters to get 'em going," were the first words that Madison football coach Nick Jakich said after his Trojans had just won their third game of the season 14-7 over a tough

Columbia team here Saturday. So tough, in fact, that it took all the Trojans had — and more — to gain a win.

For the first three and a half quarters, the Trojans did absolutely everything possible with the football except two things: turn it over and score with it. It was the latter that had Jakich concerned.

On the Trojans' first possession of the game, they drove from their own 19-yard line to the four-yard line of Columbia in 15 plays on a beautiful drive.

But two straight cracks at the Eagles' defensive line added up to nothing for the Trojans. On the fourth-down-and-two play at the four of Columbia, Madison Quarterback Joe Piechocinski was stopped for no gain on a quarterback sneak and the first scoring threat was snuffed out.

Columbia then started a drive of its own.

Tom Tonjes, the Eagles' heavy-duty running back, alternated with Robert Byrd, the other running back, running the pickskin through the Trojans' defense until — on a third-and-six play at their own 37-yard line — there were forced to punt.

The two teams then exchanged punts twice before the Trojans started their last drive of the first half.

In three plays, Madison moved the ball from its own nine-yard line to the 25-yard line of Columbia.

But time ran out before any scoring could be done. The half ended on a 43-yard pass from Piechocinski to Tom Colston.

As the second half began, many were beginning to wonder when (or if) anybody was ever going to score. They soon found out.

The third quarter was scoreless. But it almost wasn't. After three punt exchanges, the Eagles gathered momentum and drove the ball all the way down to the Trojans' one-yard line, where they had it first-and-goal as the period ended.

Tonjes plunged in from there on the first play of the fourth quarter. The point-after by Darryl Rautman was good and the Eagles had suddenly risen up and grabbed a 7-0 lead.

THE SPACE WAS SET for the turning point of the game. On their next possession, Madison's Piechocinski was intercepted by Columbia defensive back Bill Hosick.

The Eagles drove all the way down to Madison's 19-yard line before they were stopped on a good defensive effort by the Trojans' line. Rautman attempted a 30-yard field goal but it was short. The Trojans had held.

It only took Piechocinski seven plays to get the Trojans on the scoreboard. He mixed passes with the strong running of James Heard and Ronald Morris to get the ball deep into Columbia territory, where Heard ran it in from 19 yards out to make it 7-6, Columbia.

Then Piechocinski used a little razzle-dazzle. As MHS set up for an extra-point kick, the ball was instead snapped directly to Piechocinski, who lofted a lame-duck pass to Heard for a two-point conversion which gave the Trojans an 8-7 lead.

After another exchange of punts, Madison was ready for more.

Taking over on Columbia's 30-yard line, Piechocinski ran the ball for 20 yards down to the Eagles' 10.

Two plays later, Heard scored his second TD of the day, this time on a four-yard run. It had turned out to be a nice day after all for Jakich and his team.

"These guys are just one big happy family," he said afterward. "They really believe in each other ... that's what's important."

"The defense believes in the offense and the offense believes in the defense," he added.

"They're almost unbelievable." But what kept the Trojans from getting started for three-and-a-half quarters?

"Columbia's defense," said Jakich without hesitation. "That was a good football team we beat today."

ARE VISIONS of playoffs dancing in Jakich's head?

"No. All I'm worried about is next week (at Breese Mater Dei). They're big and bad. We'll just worry about them one at a time."

Roxana halts Steelers' playoff hopes, 10-7

By PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor

For one, brief, fleeting moment, as the song goes, they could see it. But in a flash, it was gone.

For a split second, the Granite City North Steelers could see their third victory of the season Friday night at Granite City Stadium over Roxana.

They had the Shells down 7-3 and the visitors had the ball on their own 40-yard line with a fourth-and-five situation and just barely over two minutes remaining in the game. Visions of victory.

But those visions vanished seconds later when Dan

Pohlman, Roxana's fleet halfback (one of several) took a pitchout from quarterback Jeff Vinyard and scampered 60 yards for a touchdown. Bye bye playoffs.

That one play ruined a magnificent comeback by the Steelers. As the game began, it appeared as if the Shells might run rampant over North's defense.

Pohlman and Roxana's other workhorses, Jim Brown and David Wilson, racked up gain after gain of eight to 10 yards and first down after first down.

But even though the Shells controlled the first quarter (they had the ball for 11 plays compared to North's six), they couldn't push the ball over for a score.

That came soon enough. On the third play of the second quarter, Roxana place kicker Jeff Fields booted a 25-yard field goal after the Shells were stalled at the Steeler 10-yard line, to give the visitors a 3-0 lead.

WHEN IT WAS NORTH'S turn to control the ball, The Steelers started from their own 20 and drove the ball in seven plays to midfield. On a second-and-six play, quarterback Doug Rains gained eight yards but was injured in the ensuing pileup when he got a helmet in his mid-section.

Enter Tim Dudley. On his first play, he handed off to Robin Smith, who gained 10 yards and another Steeler first down. Almost. North was called for clipping on the play and the gain was wiped out.

On the next play, Dudley threw a bomb down to the Roxana 10-yard line that was caught ... by Roxana defensive back Ed Webb. He returned it to his own 19 and the drive was wiped out.

Roxana reeled off 17 straight plays in controlling the ball before Fields tried another field goal with 15 seconds remaining in the first half, this time from 35 yards out. It was no good and the first half appeared to be just over.

If it weren't for one more play by the Steelers, who took over the ball on their own 20.

Rains came back in, apparently recovered from his earlier shakeup. He handed off to Mike Herman, who gained five yards.

But both players were injured on what Steeler coach Tom Wyrostek called "late hits." Both had to be helped from the field ... Rains for the rest of the game.

"I don't cry about officiating ... they are going to miss some calls," said Wyrostek. "It's just a shame that both players had to be injured."

The Steelers came out in the second half fired up. Their defense rose to the occasion.

They sacked Vinyard for a 13-yard loss and then ganged up on Pohlman for a 12-yard loss on an attempted draw play. Those two plays coupled with a 15-yard penalty against the Shells, put them into a considerable hole.

Fields got them out of it in a hurry. He booted a 45-yard punt that gave North reasonable field position at its own 35. But it could have been worse for Roxana.

THAT'S WHEN THE Steeler touchdown drive took place. With the running of Bruce Wright and Tom Greco (in to replace the injured Sherman), North's players appeared to have things going their way for a change.

A long gain by Greco down to the Shells' four-yard line gave North a first-and-goal situation.

Dudley dived in from the one-yard line two plays later and with the PAT by Kevin Buckingham, the Steelers had the lead, 7-3.

North then began to take control. The Steelers ate up the clock.

When they didn't, the North defense stopped Roxana cold. That is, until there were two minutes left in the game.

That's when Pohlman scored the long TD for the Shells and broke the Steeler's backs.

"We had them down ... had the game won," said Wyrostek. "But we broke down on defense and lost the game."

"We didn't execute on the outside (linebacker) and that's where the play went."

But Wyrostek didn't make any excuses. "I'm proud of the way our guys came back," he said. "They played hard. Sometimes, you just have to face your talents."

But, for that one play to be done over, coach.

SOPHOMORE QUARTERBACK Tim Dudley of North barks out signals in Friday's loss to Roxana. Dudley was forced into action when the regular quarterback, Doug Rains, was injured in the second half. Dudley did well while he was in the game, scoring the Steelers' only touchdown, in the third quarter.

THE game ends in a 2-2 tie . . .

TWO soccer kings in Granite City

"What a game . . . what a game!" were the words of Bob Kehoe.

"I'm just emotionally drained right now," said Gene Baker with a hoarse voice.

What they were talking about was what was perhaps one of the most exciting soccer games to have ever been played in Granite City . . . or anywhere.

It was the annual meeting Thursday between Granite City's two high school soccer teams . . . North and South . . . to decide who was the king of Granite City soccer.

"The result? Well, actually, both teams are king . . . the game ended in a tie, 2-2. North tied the score with only three minutes left in the contest.

Before the game, there was the usual pomp-and-ceremony that goes with just about every North-South game. It was played at North this year. The Steeler marching band performed and the crowd (an estimated 3,000) started whooping it up early.

But when the actual game began, all of that was incidental. THE game was all that mattered.

"High spirits" is one way of describing the tone of the game . . . and "high" is definitely an understatement.

The first half was dominated by rough play in the middle of the field, neither team getting much of an edge.

But with about 10 minutes remaining South started putting pressure on North goalie, Mike Hill. The Steelers were called for a penalty and South's Mark Goldschmidt was awarded the penalty shot.

He performed with his usual ease on the shot but almost didn't make it.

Hill dove to his right in an effort to stop the ball from going into the net and just about put the stop on it. But Goldschmidt had too much on it and South led 1-0 at the 29:58 mark of the first half.

Then North began to put a little pressure of its own on Warrior goalie Berry Briggs, something that hasn't happened too often this season.

Almost exactly 10 minutes after Goldschmidt's goal for South, Eric Thornburg was awarded a penalty kick for the Steelers.

He converted it at 39:03 mark of the 46-minute half to tie things up at 1-1.

An incident occurred in that second half that may have had an impact on the outcome of the game.

About midway through the period, in the flurry of the action in front of his own goal, said something that the referee did not feel was appropriate, to say the least.

Edwards was banished from the game without the benefit of a yellow card (warning). North coach Bob Kehoe, usually a calm coach during a game, became incensed.

He argued vehemently with the official . . . perhaps a little too harshly. Kehoe was subsequently ejected from the game.

"This is only the second time in 42 years of soccer that I've been taken out of a game," he said. "I'm not bragging . . . just think that maybe there's a message in there somewhere."

THE SECOND HALF was almost an exact duplicate of the first, score-wise.

The second half of the Goldschmidt Brothers Soccer Company, David, slammed home the go-ahead goal for the Warriors at the 25:57 mark of the final half. He was assisted by his brother, Mark.

The Warriors seemed to have things going pretty much their own way in the second half and it looked as if North had put up a good fight, but . . .

Suddenly, at the 31:12 mark, Cliff "Butch" Stefanoff put one past Briggs to knot things up at 2-2.

But how? The Warrior bench screamed, "Hand ball!" claiming that Stefanoff had put the ball into the net with his hand. This would be illegal and also result in a penalty kick for the other team, in this case, South.

But nothing was called and that's how the game ended—2-2. There was no overtime because of darkness.

Both coaches had very different reactions to the game. Kehoe, somewhat calmed down afterwards, said he would have liked to have won, but there was no way he could be unhappy with the tie.

"My heart goes out to my players," he said. "When we were one man down in the first half, we kept a very powerful South team from scoring and in fact, created some scoring opportunities of our own. They demonstrated a lot of guts."

SOUTH COACH Baker was not as pleased. "We're never satisfied with a tie," he said. "I don't think it really WAS a tie, but I guess it was, officially."

"I feel it's all pretty depressing," he added. "They (North) seemed awfully pleased to get a tie."

Baker did say that he was pleased with the way his players demonstrated self-discipline.

"They really showed a lot of poise out there, I thought," he said. "But I don't think that we played as well as we are capable of."

SOUTH'S JACKSONVILLE On Saturday, South was back on the field against Jacksonville.

The game was never really close. After 15:07 of the first quarter, Mark Goldschmidt hit home on a penalty kick that gave South the lead. The Warriors were never headed.

In the third quarter, Gary Phelps headed in a goal the 3:03 mark assisted by David Goldschmidt.

Mark Goldschmidt then got his second goal of the game, unassisted at the 8:10 mark. John Pragma chalked up a goal at the end of the quarter, also unassisted.

To round out the scoring, David Goldschmidt scored after 1:02 of the last quarter to make the final margin 6-0.

NORTH'S JACKSONVILLE Granite City North also got back to work Saturday. The Steelers had two games.

They played Jacksonville in the early afternoon after South got finished with the visiting team. The Steelers looked sharp in recording a 9-0 victory.

The shutout reflected North's defensive prowess, and offensive stars included Mike Fitzgerald, who got three goals, and Jeff Puryear, two goals.

NORTH'S NOTRE DAME Four hours after taking the field against Jacksonville, Kehoe's athletes met and conquered Quincy Notre Dame, 3-0.

Cliff Stefanoff and Marty Dooley chalked up early goals to provide the Steelers with a 2-0 halftime advantage, and Eric Thornburg completed the scoring in the second half.

The success enabled North High to improve its sparkling 1977 varsity record to 13 wins, a loss and a tie.

On its performance so far, the Steeler unit can stake a claim to being one of the strongest teams in the state and the Midwest.

Kenny Shrum, a deputy sheriff from St. Charles, Mo., appeared to have second place wrapped up when, with 10 laps remaining, he got crossed-up with the guardrail coming out of the second turn, returned to the track and then went back up on the guardrail.

Shrum's auto straddled the rail about half-way down the straight before sliding off and going into the grass, eliminating him from contention.

The minkit of the evening was put on by Mike Munson, Oblong, Ill., who became airborne in the first turn on on the 60th lap and literally flew through thick air before crashing through a cyclone fence.

As the car came to rest, Munson got out and walked through the hole his car had just made in the fence, climbed onto the back of a wrecker and joined the wrecker crew in recovering his damaged car. His only comment later was, "It was a wide ride!" He was not injured.

For Terry Spalding—who made his first late model appearance at the final race of the late season—the evening was filled with disappointment, then joy and then disappointment. But, overall, he made an excellent showing, officials said.

Spalding started near the back of the 33-car pack in his 25-lap semi-feature race and worked his way up to ninth position by the checkered flag.

Unfortunately, only the top eight in each of the three semi-features qualified to join the top eight qualifiers in the feature race.

The younger Spalding was visibly upset as he listened to the track announcer list those who had qualified for the feature race, but his expression changed rapidly as the announcer relayed the promoter's decision to expand the field to 33 cars and he learned that he was in the feature.

The rookie made a good showing until mechanical problems developed in his car's engine and he was forced to retire to the pits.

Finishing behind his father in the 75-lap event were Ron Jackson of Burlington, Iowa, Duane Steffe of East Moline, Ill., Tom Bartholomew of Waterloo, Iowa, Kenny Schrader of Kirkwood, Mo., and Jim O'Connor of Chicago, in that order.

Semi-feature race winners were Ken Walton of Marion, Iowa, Darrell Duke of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Doug McCammon of Palestine, Ill.

The weather was a major problem throughout the TENSE ACTION during the North-South soccer game Thursday at North's field. Here, Bob Batey of North tries to get the ball away from his own net and is being guarded closely by South's Joe Theis (6). The game ended in a 2-2 tie.

Spalding wins, son also earns praise

Saturday night was a happy one for Mrs. Rose Spalding of Pontoon Beach as she watched her husband, Wib, take the top honors at Tri-City Speedway's final race program and saw her son, Terry, qualify for the feature race and made a good showing in his rookie year of late model competition.

Wib Spalding, this year's track champion at Tri-City, was untouchable throughout the evening, his familiar number 44 Camaro qualifying faster than any of the 68 other late model cars at the event.

He then started in the pole position for the feature and held the lead from start to finish.

His son, Terry, however, was a little too busy to be cheering for his day. Terry was farther back in the pack, trying to work his way up near his father.

While there was no contest for first place in the 75-lap feature race, the other positions were "up for grabs."

Kenny Shrum, a deputy sheriff from St. Charles, Mo., appeared to have second place wrapped up when, with 10 laps remaining, he got crossed-up with the guardrail coming out of the second turn, returned to the track and then went back up on the guardrail.

Shrum's auto straddled the rail about half-way down the straight before sliding off and going into the grass, eliminating him from contention.

Cougars to host U.S. Nationals

The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer team has scheduled an exhibition game with the United States of America national team Thursday, Oct. 13, at Cougar Field. Kickoff time is 5 p.m.

"It's a real honor to be able to bring the U.S.A. national team to the SIUE campus to perform for our fans and test our Cougars," said SIUE soccer coach Bob Guelker. "I see a two-fold aim for the game. It will help our U.S. team to be able to play as many games as possible in preparation for next year's World Cup and then the Olympic Games. And, secondly, it will be a great opportunity for our young players to test their skills against the professional players on the U.S. squad."

Guelker pointed out that his charges' game with the U.S. national team, sandwiched like it is between tough regular games with the University of Missouri, St. Louis (Oct. 12) and Quincy College (Oct. 15), will be "a real test for them, but my players will gain immeasurably in the process. Hopefully, it will hasten our maturity as a team."

The national team is composed primarily of players who are members of professional clubs in the North American Soccer League (NASL) and American Soccer League (ASL).

St. Louisans who are starring members on the national team include: Al Treest, St. Louis Stars, and former St. Louis U. ace; Steve Pecher, ex-UMSL.

Is it JUST another game?

Clockwise from right: David Fernandez, South's freshman boy-wonder was racked up late in the game and is helped off by Granite City Trainer Bill Cochran. It was painful on both sides. Below right, North's Jim Goodyear has cramps and is aided on the sideline. Below left: The two generals before the battle — Baker on the left and Kehoe on the right. Left: North's Goodyear and South's Joe Theis scramble for control of the ball.

This was it. This was the day of THE game. The day when it would finally be decided just which was the best soccer team in Granite City.

Was it North, with an 11-1 record and victories over such teams as CBC? Or was it South, the defending state champion which had outscored its first seven opponents 57-0 and had dominated most of its games with ease?

Well, both ended as the king. A late goal by North tied the score. But, as you can see, it was a knock-down-drag-out affair.

They'll just have to wait another year to see who's king.

Most women don't seek separate credit identity

Women who use credit cards and joint charge accounts listed in their husbands' names are largely ignoring a new federal law allowing them to establish their own credit identities, it is being asserted. A survey of major credit card issuers shows that only nine per cent of women sharing joint accounts have requested that their names be listed separately.

The primary intent of recent amendments to the Equal Credit Opportunity Act was to have credit information on joint accounts reported in the names of both husbands and wives.

Previously, credit records of retailers, financial institutions and credit bureaus often carried only the husband's name on joint accounts, it is contended. The wife, in effect, usually had no credit identity even though she frequently used the joint account and often paid the bills.

Under the new provisions, both the husband and wife can have a separate credit history for the same joint account which each could then use to establish credit if they subsequently became divorced or widowed.

Since June 1, when creditors began to comply with the regulations, credit card issuers have sent over 310 million notices to account holders, enclosing forms to be signed and mailed back if the separate listing of both names is desired. Responses to major bank credit card issuers have averaged 16 per cent. Nationwide, retailers averaged 7 per cent and the response from oil company card holders was 3 per cent.

The lack of response correlated with comments from women interviewed in 18 cities during a nationwide tour to inform women about their rights to credit. A majority of the women contacted had little or no awareness of their credit rights or of the importance of having credit in their own names, they said.

Among married women, many felt no need to establish separate credit identities since they could use their husbands' credit cards. Others were hesitant for fear of wounding their husbands' ego or causing them to think they were preparing for a separation or divorce.

"Having a separate credit identity is especially important for married women — 85 per cent of whom will find themselves single again at some time in their lives as a result of a divorce or widowhood," a credit official comments.

"When that type of traumatic experience occurs, the last thing a woman needs is to suddenly find that she has no access to credit, simply because the credit record was in her husband's name."

Smith-Walker wedding at Trinity Tabernacle

Miss Betty Ann Walker, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Walker Sr., 2112 Alton Ave., Madison, and Joseph Smith Jr., a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith Sr., Lomas, Ill., exchanged wedding vows on Sept. 10 at Trinity Tabernacle, 2001 Sixth St., Madison.

The Rev. C. M. O'Guin officiated at the candlelight ceremony at 6:30 in the evening. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length white tulle gown fashioned with a fitted bodice, a high neckline and sheer yoke of Chantilly lace. Her full sleeves with wide cuffs were also created in matching lace.

Lace motifs were applied on the bodice skirt to form an apron effect, and also bordered her mantilla veil of bridal illusion. She carried a bouquet of white carnations intermingled with baby's breath.

Mrs. Phyllis E. Walker, a sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor. She selected a long blue and white satin and organza gown designed with an Empire waistline, marked at the back with a white bow. She wore a cluster of blue flowers as a headpiece and she held an arrangement of white carnations.

The groom chose Charles A. Walker of Dallas City, Ill., a brother of the bride, as his best man.

Guests attended a reception after the service held in the home of Mrs. Charles L. Murphy, 1332 Edwardsville Road, the bride's grandmother. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Walker selected a full length gown of light green chiffon worn with a matching eyelid lace jacket.

The groom's mother was attired in a yellow sheath dress designed with stand-up collar. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages.

The newly married couple are now residing in Dallas City, Ill.

Members to attend church assembly

The Rev. and Mrs. Dennis Rutledge and Mr. and Mrs. John Gordon will represent Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, at the general assembly of the Christian Church, Disciples of Christ, to be held this month in Kansas City, Mo.

Theme for the five day meeting is "Empowered By Love, Kansas City 77" and is to include business sessions to consider resolutions, reports and elections.

There also will be 40 interest groups offering instructions and guidance for congregations; a two-day national evangelistic association meeting; daily worship services; special youth activities and many other program events, it was announced.

Roxann Lynn Beyrau and Raymond Smith are wed

Miss Roxann Lynn Beyrau became the bride of Raymond L. Smith Jr., on Sept. 10, at the First Assembly of God Church. White bows on the pews and floral arrangements of blue, yellow and pink mums on the altar provided the setting for the 6 p.m. double ring ceremony performed by Rev. C. Dale Edwards.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. June D. Beyrau, 3101 Jill Ave., and the late Fred W. Beyrau Sr. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Smith Sr., 2901 Wayne Ave.

Organist Mark Cox played "Sunrise, Sunset," "Love Story," "Bridge Over Troubled Waters" and "Wedding Prayer."

Escorted to the altar by her brother, Fred Beyrau, the bride wore a full length gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with a skirt of cascading ruffles which swept into a cathedral train.

Long tapered sleeves were set into a bodice designed with a Sabrina neckline. A lace pill box headpiece secured her veil of bridal illusion and she held a bouquet of carnations, baby's breath and greenery.

Maid of honor Pamela Elaine Holland, a cousin of the bride, chose a yellow halter style dress fashioned with a lace ruffled skirt and complemented with a matching cape.

The bridesmaids Pamela Elmore and Nancy Bergfield selected identical styled dresses in aqua and blue and pink. David Ray Brown attended the groom as best man. Johnny Pritchard and Jon Smith were the groomsmen.

Scott Miles and David Patterson served as ushers and candlelighters.

Vicki Pfeiffer presided over the guest book at a reception held at the American Legion Hall, 1825 State St. The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at George Lindsay's Restaurant.

Mrs. Beyrau was attired in a teal green gown featuring a scoop neckline, trimmed with seed pearls and complemented with a chiffon cape.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Smith appeared in a peach pleated gown worn with a ruffled cape.

Both young people graduated from Granite City High School South. The bride is employed at Graham's Business Products and her husband works at Granite City Steel.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Mary Holland, Cynthia and Frank Holland and Pamela Holland.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES McQUEEN whose wedding was solemnized at St. John Lutheran Church. Formerly Vera Diane Birtley, the bride is a daughter of Harry Gilmore, 2537 Pine St., and the late Mrs. Virginia Lee Gilmore.

Vera D. Birtley weds Charles McQueen Jr.

St. John Lutheran Church was the scene of the wedding on Sept. 3 of Vera Diane Birtley and Charles Richard McQueen Jr.

The bride is a daughter of Harry Gilmore, 2537 Pine St., and the late Mrs. Virginia Lee Gilmore. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. McQueen Sr., reside in Cahokia.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 7:30 in the evening was the Rev. Samuel Boda, before the altar adorned with bouquets of pink and white gladioli and carnations.

For her wedding the bride chose a formal length ivory organza gown designed with an oval neckline and sleeveless bodice featuring a tiered noice over the shoulders to create short sleeves.

The A-line skirt terminated at the hemline with a deep gathered flounce. She wore a fluted brim hat and held a colonial arrangement of pink and white roses with baby's breath.

Mrs. Brenda Cant served as matron of honor and Misses Laura and Nancy Gilmore, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids.

They wore identical wine color polyester halter dresses enhanced with pink chiffon inserts on the bodice to create a criss cross design.

Each attendant wore a wine color picture hat accented with pink flowers and they carried bouquets of variegated pink carnations and daisies.

Jessica Gilmore, a niece of the bride, was the flower girl. She dressed in a pink satin frock made with a ruffled neckline, long sleeves and full skirt, bordered with a white eyelid flounce.

William D. Birtley, a son of the bride, served as the ringbearer.

The groom chose Kenneth Zampangonia of St. Louis, as his best man. Vince Callico, a cousin of the groom, William Hunt, Roger Hollowell and James Gilmore, a brother of the bride, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Some risk in buying used appliances

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension
Adviser, Home Economics

When money is limited or an unexpected need arises, a good used appliance may be a wise, economical choice.

There is always a certain risk involved in using appliances ranging from almost new to junk. A second-hand refrigerator may last for 10 years or more; it could also break down in less than 10 days.

Unless you buy a slightly damaged or demonstration model from a reputable dealer, the original warranty is unlikely to be valid, even if the time limit has not expired.

The amount of risk involved varies, partially depending on the source of the used appliance.

Furniture and department stores, as well as appliance centers, sell freight-damaged goods, demonstration models, trade-ins and repossessed appliances.

Because they hope to keep you as a customer, these stores usually get rid of anything that could be classified as "pure junk." But you will pay for this initial cutting, along with the store's overhead and other costs.

Generally, the less risk involved, the greater the appliance's value and thus the higher its selling price.

Used appliance dealers also may feel they have a reputation to maintain. The risk may be slightly higher than that of a retail store, but the price should be lower.

You can check the reputation of a dealer through the Better Business Bureau, the Chamber of Commerce, or by talking to others about their experiences with the dealer.

Classified ads often offer lower prices. Some risk is involved, so examine the appliance carefully. Has it been properly maintained? Plug it in and make sure it works.

Often, bargains — and risks — come from garage sales, auctions and charity outlets. Be especially careful at auctions. Dealers may dispose of their undesirable trade-ins through this outlet.

You could also get carried away in the bidding and end up buying something for several times its value.

It is possible to buy a used appliance which will last for years, but it is also possible it will never work or will need extensive repair.

Patricia Cottrell becomes Mrs. Joseph B. Lattimore

The wedding of Miss Patricia Lynn Cottrell, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Cottrell, 53 Villa Drive, and Joseph Bruce Lattimore, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lattimore, 3224 Edgewood Ave., was solemnized on Aug. 20 at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church.

A white wrought iron arch festooned with various greens and burning tapers, in tiered candleholders provided the setting for the double ring ceremony performed at 2 p.m. by Father Edward Groesch and the Rev. Russell Harrison of Indianapolis, Ind.

Paul Mabry sang, "Wedding Song," "Ave Maria," "Because," "O Perfect Love," "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Lord's Prayer." Other selections were played by Beth Nicol, Ellen Boda, John Miller, Kevin Nicol and John Miller. Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a full length white chiffon gown designed with an Empire bodice, etched with pearls, and a Queen Ann neckline traced with Venise lace. The long full sleeves were deeply cuffed with traditional points over the wrists.

A flowing chiffon Watteau panel fell into a full sweep chapel train and was attached to the back lace yoke. Her cathedral length veil was secured to a camelot headpiece accented with lace motifs and pearls and she carried a cascade of cattleya orchids, stephanotis and greenery.

Honor attendant was Miss Cheryl Cottrell, a sister of the bride, and bridesmaids were Kathy Dinella, Denise Tegel, Ellen Boda and sisters of the groom, Karen Zubal and Mary Lattimore.

They appeared in pink jersey formal length dresses fashioned with Empire bodices with tiny straps and softly flowing skirts complemented with chiffon capes.

Each held a bouquet of cymbidium orchids, purple statice and stephanotis.

A cousin of the groom, Randy Grott, was the best man. Groomsman and ushers included Randy Dinella, Daniel and Tom Grott, Tim Zubal, Dave Hatcher and Ron Motil.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held at The Barrel Restaurant at 6:30 in the evening.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cottrell selected a fitted sleeveless full length peach Qiana dress. The groom's mother chose a floor length blue jersey gown with a chiffon cape.

The bride's mother wore a cymbidium wristlet and Mrs. Lattimore's wristlet corsage was composed of blue roses.

Members of the wedding party were entertained at a rehearsal dinner given at Tony's Restaurant.

Both young people graduated in 1973 from South High School. The bride also graduated in 1976 from Southeast Missouri State University and is now employed at Boatman's Bank, St. Louis.

The groom attended Belleville Area College and now works as a bricklayer for Local 65.

Calvary Baptist honors Acteens

In a candlelight ceremony last week at Calvary Baptist Church, five members of Acteens received crowns for special service to the church. The young women receiving the symbolic awards were Janet Fox, Kim Slayter, Sharon Heath, Cindy Jackovich and Vicki Meador.

All wore long white gowns for the ceremony and were escorted by Lindell Lindsey, Don Slayter, Tony Ybarra, Steve Connors, Charles Kruger, Sky Price and Dave Dean, also Acteen members.

Serving as the crown bearers were Dede Hawkins, Carol Lane, Sharon Crider, Amber Harrigan and Jackie Lane.

Upon receiving her crown, each girl explained what participation in the Acteen program has contributed to her life.

The Acteen song was sung and a presentation was made by Gale Bivens and Barbara Jackovich, co-leaders of the group, as they gave service pins to girls who have been Acteen members for six months.

Receiving the pins were Jamie Cornett, Janet Fox, Sharon Heath, Vicki Meador, Cindy Jackovich, Kim Slayter and Lisa Wilson.

The Rev. Al Slayter, Calvary Baptist pastor, closed the program by expressing appreciation to "this fine group of young men and women in Acteens at Calvary Baptist Church."

case we can win in court, we either dismiss it or select a lesser charge right then and then we go with that charge all the way. From here on, there will be almost no plea bargaining," Dewey Van Dyke, assistant to Byron, told the Press-Record.

Some police officers feel the warrant office concept makes it necessary after an arrest to completely prepare a criminal case by the next working day, if they do not want to release a suspect and have to locate and re-arrest him after charges have been approved.

"We are rushing so fast to complete the paperwork, I am afraid we are going to make mistakes," one source involved in preparing criminal cases said.

In the rush, he might forget to ask one important question. We could blow the whole case because we were rushing it," the source said.

Another concern of some officers is whether the office puts the normal system of justice out of order. Police contend the law was designed so police officers could investigate a criminal case and then make an arrest if there was "probable cause" to believe someone was guilty.

The officer then should charge the criminal with the law violation which is provided by statute, not a lesser offense, under the normal handling of cases.

Under the new system, the warrant office would take and determines at that point what will "hold up in court," according to Byron.

"If we can't make a case there with the original charge, we might send the officer back and say bring the case back when you have enough, or we might approve a lesser charge we can prove," he added.

One of the major determining factors in whether the new system is going to help or hamper police is the judgment of the assistant state's attorney who considers the case for the filing of a charge. How much do officers have to prove in order to have a charge filed on the spot while the suspect is still in custody?

One officer contends, "Everything they want a case which is ready for trial and it is hard to put together in one working day."

Granite City Chief of Police Ronald J. Vetter disagrees, saying, "All they are looking for is probable cause. You do not have to have your case ready for trial, but you have to have enough to show them there is a good chance you will be able to get your case ready by the trial date."

Asked about the issue, Byron responded, "I have told my assistants to be sure all the elements are there. Every element of the crime must be there and tied to the person you want to charge. You are darn right it is hard and we are rushing these guys to get their cases together quickly."

"We are pushing. We are pushing against crime. We are pushing to meet the law's requirement of a speedy trial. We want more criminals in the penitentiary and we want to see them stay there longer."

"I don't want any excuses that there are not enough prison facilities. I am considering having my grand jury subpoena the governor down here to answer why all of these guys we work hard to send to the pen get sent back here in no time," Byron stated.

He said the warrant office concept was recommended in a Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission (SILEC) report which was very critical of the county's prosecuting procedures.

"They said we should have it, so now we have it. I liked the other system and thought it worked well for police to call us, discuss their cases on the telephone and then we would either authorize a criminal complaint or tell them to do their homework," Byron stated.

Van Dyke noted, "However, the next morning in the bright light of day, when we had a chance to look at the case, all the ingredients were not there and many times we would have to dismiss the charge. It looked bad and a lot of people in the newspaper when we never really had enough evidence to show probable cause."

Byron responded, "When we dismissed charges like that, it made the statistics look bad. SILEC's consultants did not know what the figures meant when they said over half our cases were disposed of by dismissing the charges. That's not fair."

"Formerly, police would file a charge and then the next day they would study the case and issue either an informational document or get an indictment from the grand jury."

"Then, we dismiss the criminal complaint which had been replaced by the informational document. Right away, we have dismissed half of our charges, but the way SILEC's consultants did not charge him twice and dismissing one, the way they kept records."

Asked directly if the warrant office was approved primarily to improve the county's "statistics," Byron responded, "No, but it sure will not hurt them any."

He added, "I think this is a good system. SILEC recommended it because it works elsewhere and I think it can work here. The police may gripe because they have to work harder or turn a criminal loose for a while until they can prove a case against him, but it is going to almost eliminate the filing of charges we can't prove."

Some observers wonder whether the new system is, in effect, giving the criminal the benefit of two trials, either of which may result in his going free. First the police have to convince an assistant state's attorney of the suspect's guilt "beyond a reasonable doubt," and then they have to convince a jury of the same thing.

If the criminal wins either contest, he is set free.

Another question is whether

"contributing circumstances" involved with a crime are used to the criminal's benefit twice. The law provides that the judge consider contributing circumstances in the "aggravation and mitigation" portion of the trial, which is after the criminal is found guilty and before he is sentenced.

There, the judge can use those circumstances as justification for a lesser sentence than the maximum.

However, some officers feel the contributing circumstances also are being used by the assistant state's attorneys in determining what charge to file.

"It's like two Christmas holidays each year for the criminals," one officer noted.

In a local shooting case, the state's attorney's office would approve only a charge of aggravated battery for one youth who shot another. Why not attempted murder or attempted manslaughter?

"Well, there were contributing circumstances. There was a fight over the gun before the shots were fired," was the answer from the assistant state's attorney who authorized the charge.

"This is nothing new. We had the same thing when we had to get approval for charges over the telephone. The only difference was we used to get over to Edwardsville for the same thing we used to get over the telephone," an investigator noted.

"What ever happened to probable cause? That is all we need. We need a man and we never had to prove that charge until we got into the courtroom. Between the time we charged him and the time we went to trial was when we prepared our case for trial and the only people you had to convince the man was guilty were those in the jury box," he added.

"Even a grand jury hearing and a preliminary hearing only have to find probable cause. Now, before you prove probable cause to them, you almost have to prove guilt beyond a reasonable doubt to the state's attorney's office to even get a charge filed, and another officer stated, adding, "Something's backward here."

Venice Chief of Police Ralph "Brawley" Brawley said he thinks the warrant office system is a good one and added, "The way they explained it to us, it was to have an expert look at what we had and determine if we had probable cause to charge that man."

"We were also told we could take the prisoner with us to Edwardsville, lodge him in the Madison County Jail while we went across the street to get the information charged and then the state's attorney's office would issue the mittimus with the information so he could be kept in the county jail."

"That helps us keep our jail empty and saves the sheriff's office to send a car to pick up a prisoner for the county jail. I see nothing wrong with the whole system, but we have not had much chance to use it yet," Brawley stated.

Madison Chief of Police Don Bridick also said the system should be given a chance to see

A. W. Morris dies at age 58 in Hawaii

Alexander William "Bill" Morris II, 58, former Granite City realtor, died of a sudden heart attack Thursday evening while playing tennis near his home in Kamuela, Hawaii.

President of both the Honolulu Agricultural Co. and Macadamia Nut Co. of Hawaii, Inc., he had moved to the largest of the state's islands, Hawaii, in 1960. The firm operated extensive nut growing and sales programs.

Mr. Morris had been associated here in the Morris Realty Co. and had been active in the Associated Retailers and Chamber of Commerce.

He was the son of the late A. W. Morris Jr., pioneer Granite City developer. His brother, Ralph A. Morris, St. Louis, operates Morris Realty here and he has a sister, Mrs. Marjorie O'Neill Clayton. His wife is the former Patricia Jennings. Their sons are Alexander IV, Neil and Cornelius, all of Hawaii, and their daughters are Mrs. John (Sally) Woodell and Mrs. Thomas (Virginia) Pressler, both of Hawaii.

Graduate of St. Louis Country Day School and Princeton University, Mr. Morris served as a Navy fighter pilot in World War II. He served on the Metropolitan Plan Commission in this region from 1946 to 1960.

The funeral was today at St. James Episcopal Church, Kamuela.

Study drainage plan

A request by Nameoki Township that Granite City consider the connection of a stormwater sewer line from the Parkway Estates area to the stormwater line constructed along the new four-lane Maryville Road is being investigated by the aldermen of the Sixth and Seventh Wards.

Frank Mehelic, highway commissioner of Nameoki Township, has proposed a plan that calls for connecting a holding pond adjacent to Parkway Estates with the Maryville Road stormwater line. Flow of water from the holding pond would be controlled so as not to overload the highway sewer.

Mehelic has told the council that standing water in the holding pond constitutes a health hazard and that the installation of a lift station and line to the Maryville Road sewer could resolve present drainage problems in the Parkway Estates area.

The City council has referred the matter to Alderman Ronald Coleman and Paul R. Bowler of the Seventh Ward and Aldermen Gerald Parmley and Earl Baker of the Sixth Ward.

Complete replacement of Franklin Avenue sewer

Major construction work on replacement of the Franklin Avenue sanitary sewer is under way. The sewer, for a distance of approximately 800 feet has been completed by the sewer division of the City Street Department, Lionel Portell, street superintendent, said last week.

Portell said connections with the Amos Avenue manhole completed the job of repairing one of the worst sewer breaks in a long line of sewer problems that has plagued the city for more than eight years.

It also was the largest job yet undertaken by the city's sewer division which has established two years ago as repairs as possible, rather than let the jobs on contract. The city spent more than $1.6 million in sewer break repairs following the 1972 flooding under a contract with Fins Ernest Construction Co. of East St. Louis.

Portell said that the new Franklin Avenue sewer is now free-flowing and pumping and by-passing operations are no longer necessary.

He noted also that sewer workers were able to complete the job without renting well points to be used in dewatering operations which were expected to be necessary.

A month ago Portell obtained permission from the City Council to rent well points at a cost expected to range from $3,000 to $4,000.

The superintendent explained that workers were able to keep the ground water controlled by use of grouting procedures.

"The last week of the job was really difficult because of groundwater problems," he said. He noted that the sewer line in the vicinity of Amos Avenue where the last connection was made was 13 to 14 feet deep.

Cyclist drives into concrete, man arrested

Employees of Hoeffken Construction Co., pouring concrete on new section of Maryville Road at Clark Avenue at 2:05 p.m. Friday, were in the process of constructing a bridge over the road when a man on an orange-colored motorcycle drove through the concrete.

Jim Tarasuk, of Greenville, Hoeffken employee, said he motioned for the cyclist to halt until other traffic had cleared the bridge, but the man drove through the concrete.

At 3:55 p.m. Friday, Pontoon Beach police picked up Robert R. Sturdivant, 22, of 2517 Angela Drive. He was transported to Granite City police headquarters and was charged with criminal damage to property. He was released on $35 cash bond.

Driver injured in mishap on Fehling

An auto driven by Randy R. Rainwater, 18, of 1100 Twenty-seventh St., veered to the right when the brakes were applied, causing him to strike the car of David Potter, 3113 Fehling Road, parked outside his home at 5:20 p.m. Friday.

Rainwater sustained an injury to his nose and confusion to the forehead. He had x-rays taken of the facial bones, skull and nose at St. Elizabeth Hospital and was released.

The equity in your house is like money in your pocket.

Equity is the difference between how much your home is worth, and what you owe on it.

It's a valuable asset you can use to back a really big loan. For whatever you have in mind.

Real-estate values are up, up, up.

So the house you bought just a few years ago probably would sell for a lot more than you paid.

Which means your equity is bigger.

And the bigger your equity, the more you can borrow in a large real-estate loan. Right here. Right now.

Maybe the money you're looking for is already in the house.

Law requires investigation of
foster parents

Persons who apply for a license to be foster parents will now have to submit to a background investigation from the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement under legislation signed by Governor James R. Thompson.

"In the past, some children placed in foster homes have been physically abused," Thompson said. "Later, it was discovered that some of these foster parents had criminal records."

"These already disadvantaged children should not have to suffer the additional burden of being placed in such homes."

When potential foster parents apply for licenses, they will be required to sign a waiver permitting the law enforcement checks.

'Yes' vote—to enable city to concentrate on doing good job

It usually is difficult to achieve a large turnout at a special election, but Granite Cityans ought to do their best to cast their votes tomorrow. Mailings of county precinct card numbers within the last several days should be ignored, with voters instead going to their city precincts.

Both newly registered and regularly registered voters are eligible to participate. Because 8,400 petition signers secured the election and indicated their unwillingness for the superintendent of streets to be chosen by appointment, citizens have the chance tomorrow to assure that the office remains elective.

No matter what the outcome, Lionel Portell will continue in the present four-year term to which he was elected in 1975. If there is a "Yes" vote, he and others will be able to run for the street position in 1979. A "No" vote would make the post appointive by the mayor elected in 1979, with aldermanic consent.

We are inclined to suggest a "Yes" vote as the quickest way to resolve the issue and get all officials' attention focused fully again on the overriding challenge of providing the best possible municipal services in the most efficient way.

The way in which street maintenance and improvements are carried out can then serve as a guide to voters in the next regular city election.

Stores should solve magazine display problem on their own

Justified concern is being voiced by Frohardt Grade School parents and teachers about the alleged display of adult books "side by side with bubble gum" in a store near the school.

There are other instances of adult magazine covers being shown where Granite City children can see them, without paper loops encircling them to mask explicit scenes.

Some persons have suggested City Council action.

Recalling the municipality's over-though effort to restrict fortune tellers several years ago, we would prefer that city fathers remedy the magazine problem by some means other than enacting a new ordinance. Such a law would be difficult to write without abridging legitimate freedom of speech.

Many communities solve it by requiring paper covers around magazines, allowing the name of the publication to remain visible. Or it might be possible to have high-level racks that obscure most of the covers and are out of youngsters' reach.

Store operators would be foolish not to cooperate with reasonable procedures of this type. If they don't act sensibly and immediately, they are inviting punitive legislation.

Board may have acted without adequate bid comparison data

Madison County Board members may have ventured into a hazardous area in rejecting the apparent low bid for repair of sheriff department cars.

Whether they can substantiate their reasoning, or whether they intend may incur personal financial liability for the decision, may be determined in court due to a lawsuit against 17 of the 29, proposed by one of the board members, Daniel Partney.

What may have been lacking is sufficient staff work to guide the board in its too-hasty bid decision. Before casting a vote for which he may be held legally responsible as an individual, each board member is entitled to a detailed analytical comparison, rather than the kind of vague supposition about repair shops' competency voiced at the Sept. 21 meeting.

Low bids need not automatically be accepted, but in the case of exceptions there ought to be valid objective, provable reasons, adequately documented for all to consider.

Baker sets another record in big meet

Mike Baker of Granite City High School North set first place on the three-mile, hilly cross country course, one of the Springfield Invitational meet Saturday.

Baker's time was 15:27, fastest on the new course. He was the first runner to break 15:30.

This is the eighth major race win for the undefeated Baker, who has broken five course records.

Second place went to a Rushville, Ill., harrier, Tucker, who ran in 15:33.

In a field of nine schools, GCHS South finished in fifth place and North in seventh.

Lanphier of Springfield was first, followed by Alton, Griffin of Springfield, Rushville, GCHS South, Southeast of Springfield, GCHS North, Peoria Central and Springfield High.

North varsity harriers, their times and the places finished include: Greg Stout, 16:12, 7; Mike Johns, 17:44, 4; Russ Kosman, 18:04, 8; Dan Webster, 18:20, 50; and Monty Naler.

North High golfers beat nine schools

Coach Russell Chappel's GCHS North golf team was sharp in the Breese Mater Del ten-team invitational Saturday, competing in dust ball and medalist play.

Three North teams won their flight in dust ball, Dan Harper and Brett Smith scoring 72 in best ball competition. Mike Cella and George Barts 76 and Rob Fysika and Chris Andrews, also 76.

Brett Smith captured individual honors with a 76, winning in a one-hole sudden death playoff against the host team's Ben Donawald after previously tying him with a 76.

And Dan Harper of North finished fourth in individual play.

Behind North were Salem and Mater Del, tied for second

Protect youngsters from adult books

To the Editors:

Recently we have heard much about the reoccurrence of childhood diseases due to the failure of immunization.

It is just as important to immunize our children's minds against the epidemic of adult books now being displayed side by side with bubble gum in many of our retail stores that are on the direct route used by students to and from school.

It has been suggested to at least one of these stores that the books be placed under the counter and sold on request.

Since this request met with a negative response to an individual, we as a concerned group of parents feel this should be brought to the attention of the public.

These are not just the usual variety of adult books. These are ADULT books.

This leads us to ask the question, "How can we immunize our children against this disease?"

We, as a group, feel that moral conscience should dictate failure to patronize these stores.

Alderman urges voting tomorrow

To the Editor:

On Tuesday, Oct. 4, the election to retain the office of superintendent of streets as an elective office or to make it an appointive position will take place.

The voters in the Seventh Ward have expressed great concern to me that your right to vote had been taken away; therefore, as your alderman, I voted to keep it as an elective position.

It now takes you, the people, to decide the future of this office. Therefore, I urge everyone in the Seventh Ward to get out and vote Oct. 4.

Alderman, Seventh Ward

GC scholarship group elects W. W. Bright

The Granite City Scholarship Foundation, Inc., last week began its work for the new school year with an organizational meeting of the Foundation's council at Granite City High School South.

New officers for the 1977-78 year were named as follows: President—W. W. Bright, American Steel Foundries.

Vice-president—Norman Garrett, Granite City Steel, Labor-Management Torch Club.

Treasurer—Bob Spengler, Granite City Optimal Club. Recording and corresponding secretary—Charles King, Granite City Steel.

Area business, industry and civic organizations make up the Scholarship Foundation, which assists graduates of the two Granite City high schools to enter an accredited college.

The Foundation was established in 1955 by local high school teachers.

Recipients of scholarships are seniors who are chosen on the basis of financial need, scholastic ability and purpose of pursuing a college education.

The Foundation awarded a total of 23 $600 scholarships to students at the two schools at the end of the 1976-77 school year.

Driver hurt seriously

R. Walter Miller, 23, of 1540 Sixth St., Madison, was injured seriously when his car and the auto of Peter Measdi, 2042 Thirteenth St., collided at 15th Street and Madison Avenue at 6:15 a.m. Saturday.

Miller was thrown out of his vehicle which overturned and came to rest on top of him.

Rescue workers freed him from under a wheel of the vehicle and he was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted to the intensive care unit.

Miller sustained possible internal and head injuries, abrasions of his left forearm, left shoulder and back and other injuries.

Witnesses reported Miller's northbound auto went out of control, spun and slid into the southbound lanes where it and Measdi's southbound auto collided.

BOND RATINGS LOWERED Standard & Poor on Friday lowered its rating to A-plus from AA on five National Steel Corp. first mortgage bonds. It also lowered its rating on Granite City Steel's 4½ percent convertible subordinated debentures due in 1994 from BBB to BB. The agency cited relatively depressed earnings due to a continuing cost-price squeeze.

STAL PICKUP TRUCK The blue and white half-ton Chevrolet pickup truck of Eljha Arthur Worden, was stolen from the parking lot of American Steel Foundries in Granite City between 7 p.m. Thursday and 3:55 a.m. Friday.

STAL TOOLS IN BOX A grey toolbox filled with assorted tools and valued at $200 was stolen from a camper truck belonging to May Emerson, 2833 Circle Drive, it was reported at 12:30 p.m. Saturday.

GUITAR, CASE STOLEN A black vinyl case containing a four-string guitar, valued at $400, was stolen from the bedroom of Robert Slaggs, 2817 Lynch Ave., he reported at 7:10 p.m. Saturday.

BREAK INTO HOME A window in a kitchen door was broken to gain entry to the home of June Pospischil, 1002 S. 20th St., between 11th and 12th Sts., on Friday and 8:30 p.m. Sunday. Nothing is known missing.

CHARGED IN DOCUMENT David E. Dickens, 1501 Edwardsville Road, has been charged in an informational document from the Madison County state's attorney's office alleging aggravated battery. The document alleges that on Sept. 18 he cut the face and hand of Robert W. Reynolds.

Hairdressers style show Sunday

"Las Vegas Gala Affair," and extravaganzas of fantasy hairstyles and dazzling costumes, will highlight the annual style show Sunday at Elite Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, Affiliate 33.

The show will be staged in Granite City Moose Lodge 272, located at 19th and Adams streets, starting at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The event is presented annually in observance of National Beauty Salon Week. The public is invited to view more than 50 clothing fashions provided by local retail merchants, according to Wilene Gregory, show chairman, and Judy Ahlring, chairman of the "solar hair" trend.

Imagination and talent will be combined to produce the unique hairstyles, in coordination with sparkling costumes, for the fantasy segment, always a high spot of the show.

Birthday members honored

Kirkpatrick Homes Golden Age Circle Club met last week at the recreation center for its business and birthday meeting and honored five members during the meeting.

Honorees included Mildred Moss, Della Hagen, Martin Schulte, Peggy Gibbons and Ruby Corbett.

Mrs. Corbett, president, opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer and pledge to the flag.

Reports were given by Lumeta Durbin, secretary, and Peggy Gibbons, treasurer. Mrs. Caroline Lu announced cards were sent to Neely Pashea, Blanche Scantling, Effie Johnson, Charles Kelly, Theresa Dear, Carrie Hawn, Ethel Robinson, Zella McCleary and Juanita Crawley.

The president announced that persons over 55 and on a low income are eligible for employment and further information is available from Madeline Simpson, director senior aids program, Belleville Area College, 200 South Third St., Belleville, or by applying at Mayor Paul Schuler's office, by appointment 876-0624.

The Senior Citizen Center received $258 in a fund raising project and the money will be used to purchase a movie projector for the new center, it was reported.

Members are to bring a meat dish to the Oct. 11 noon pot luck dinner meeting. The Rev. Turbill, from a nursing facility, will be the guest speaker on Retirement and the Aged, Mrs. Corbett added.

Games were played and prizes awarded to Ruth Furkey, Mrs. Corbett, Alva Sloan, Arthur Lindner, John Winklemeyer and Della Hagen, after the session.

As usual, member-salon owners and beauty supply distributors have donated gifts to be presented at the style show, Mrs. Broshow said.

A special cash gift will be awarded also, and refreshments will be served to show patrons.

Local group to tour Holy Land

The Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor of Nameoki Presbyterian Church, said an exciting itinerary is planned for a group of Granite Cityans who will make a trip to Amsterdams, Egypt, the ancient city of Petra in Amman, the Holy Land and Rome.

Joining the local travelers for the journey will be a group from the Philadelphia and New Jersey area, headed by the Rev. David Livingston.

The Rev. Livingston, a seminary classmate of Pastor Pierson, has been traveling extensively in the Holy Land and teaches Bible geography and archeology in seminars across the country.

The Rev. Pierson, who is leading the local tourists, said recent reports of a cholera outbreak near some areas to be visited presents no threat to tour members. He noted in the regions where cholera has been diagnosed it is among the very poor inhabitants. Late reports indicate the number of cases has subsided, he added.

As a precaution, however, the minister said members of the group have agreed to take preventive shots.

There are a few openings for additional guests to join the tour, scheduled to start Nov. 4 and end Nov. 18, the Rev. Pierson said. Further details may be obtained by calling the minister at 877-4470 or 931-0578.
